Every living creature: Or, Heart-training through the animal world, Ralph Waldo Trine

Christian civilization and power, there, with a population of some three hundred million, there is but one-fourth the amount of crime that there is each year in England, with a population of less than twenty million, and only a small fraction of what it is in the United States, with a population less than one-fourth the population of India. These are most significant facts; they are indeed facts of tremendous import, and we would do wisely to estimate them at their proper value. We cannot begin too early in inculcating what I would term humane sentiments in the mind and heart of every individual. How early and almost unconsciously the mother, for example, gives the first lessons of thoughtlessness, carelessness, and what will eventually result in cruelty or even crime, to her child. The child is put upon the hobby-horse, a whip is put into his little hand, and he is told: Now whip the old horse and make him go.
